

Adjustable Connecting Bar Holder

Experience unparalleled versatility with Klein Tools' Adjustable Connecting Bar Holder, designed to move seamlessly with you in its unlocked position. Easily secure bars at 0-Degree, 30-Degree, and 60-Degree angles for optimal convenience, catering to both left and right-handed users. Supported by durable full-grain russet leather while fitting snugly on belts up to 3-Inch wide with its tucked tunnel loop design. This holder ensures longevity, and flexibility to keep your connecting bar securely on your toolbelt, always right where you want it.

Specifications

|                   |                                                                        |                |                                                                |
|-------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------|
| Type:             | Tool Organizer                                                         | Application:   | Connecting Bar Holder                                          |
| Special Features: | Freely Swivels, Tucked Tunnel Loop, Full Grain Leather, Locks in Place | Material:      | Leather, Steel                                                 |
| Belt Connection:  | Tunnel Loop                                                            | Belt Width:    | 3" (7.6 cm)                                                    |
| Overall Length:   | 3.25" (8.3 cm)                                                         | Overall Width: | 3.25" (8.3 cm)                                                 |
| Overall Height:   | 5.88" (14.9 cm)                                                        | Color:         | Brown/Black                                                    |
| Weight:           | 10.56 oz (299 g)                                                       | For Use With:  | Cat. Nos. 3240, 3241, 3242, 3243, 3244, 3245, 3246, 3247, 3248 |